THE FACE OF CHRIST IN ART.

An Cannon Farrar says, "The great painters when, as was the case of many of them, they were men of deep religious feeling, have often preached mighty sermons." It is the purpose of the Sunday evening service at Central Union church at 7:30, to allow some of these great artists to preach the sermon. Over thirty reproductions of the world's masterpieces will be shown, all presenting the artist's conception of the face of the Master under varying circumstances. Beginning with the fourth century, the evolution of the representation of Christ, the main object of Christian art in every stage, is brought down to the present time in the work of Hoffmann. A brief descriptive address by the associate minister will accompany the presentation of these pictures. The public is cordially invited to attend. The following views will be shown:

Head of Christ in mosaic; The Face of Christ, Giotto; Christ and the Tribute Money, Masaccio; Christ and the Emmanus Pilgrims, Fra Angelico; Christ as King of Kings, Jan Van Eyck; The Crucifixion, Donatello; The Redeemer, Raphael; Virgin and Angels Weeping Over Christ, Youthful Christ, Lullin; Christ at the Last Supper, Leonardo da Vinci; Christ of the Transfiguration, Raphael; Christ Blessing, Quentin Matsys; The Crucifixion, Durer; Christ and the Adulterous Woman, Chunchi; Christ as Judge, Michelangelo; The Tribute Money, Titian; Christ, Juan Juanes; The Saviour, Bassetti; Mary Magdalene Washing Christ's Feet, Rubens; Christ and the Tribute Money, Van Dyck; "The Supper at Emmaus," Rembrandt; Christ Blessing, Thorwaldsen; Christ Washing Peter's Feet, Madox Brown; Christ Waiting at the Door, Holman Hunt; Christ, Munksgaard; Christ and Magdalen, Von Uhde; Christ and the Children, Rodenstein; Christ (and the Patient Woman), Rosetti; Christ in the Resurrection, Burne-Jones; Christ

Healing the Sick, Zimmerman; The Christ, Hoffmann.

Sunday services—Bible school, 9:45 a. m.; morning sermon, 11:15 a. m.; Mission, Kewalo, 2 p. m.; Young People's meeting, 6:30 p. m.; evening sermon, 7:30.

The subject for the morning sermon will be "The Call of God Through the Memory of Man." If you have found life hard, and if you have failed to get as much out of it as you had hoped to, hear this morning sermon. It may help you; it will be preached with that end in view.

The evening sermon will be "Figs From Thistles," a sermon for the man who wants to but can't.

Residents of Honolulu not identified with another church, strangers in the city and especially young men connected with the military service, are heartily invited.

KAUMAKAPILI.

Once a month English services are held in the Kaumakapili church. Tomorrow will be English service day at this church, and Mr. Richards will speak at 11 o'clock.

There are attending schools in the Territory, 29,909 pupils of which 6157 are enrolled in the private schools.

Japanese come first with 8,368, Portuguese next with 4,214, Hawaiians third, and fifth last. There are 459 American pupils.

Speaks of Epidemics.

In his report, Mr. Pope said, in part: "During the year there have been several epidemics in various localities. These have interfered somewhat with the good attendance of the school; but there has undoubtedly been less sickness affecting the school attendance this year than during the preceding year. Throughout the entire year the attendance has been unusually good and the term reports show a number of schools with almost perfect attendance. This is undoubtedly due more to the improved system of supervision than anything else."

"The enrollment has steadily increased throughout the year as indicated by the term reports. The schools of almost every district have increased their enrollment and aside from a number of new schools having been established, additional room has been secured in various ways and every available space allowed to fill the greatest capacity."

Efficiency improved.

"Much effort has been put forth by the department to improve the efficiency of the teaching force both by selection of well-trained teachers and by improving the way in which they are employed. The percentage of unqualified teachers has been greatly reduced. This improvement has been a very slow process, mainly because many of our smaller schools are in rather undesirable locations where it is difficult to retain qualified teachers in charge."

"The promotion of pupils has been more carefully handled than ever before and the statistics show much more uniformity of pupils and pupils' work. The number of pupils promoted during the year has increased with the enrollment."

The man who is satisfied to take things as they come evidently doesn't expect much.

Ever notice how easy it is for people to give advice about things they don't understand?

Taking a vacation usually means getting bored at exorbitant rates.

The established churches fought drunkenness and easy living at every turn and from one year's end to another and much improvement in conditions was apparent. Under the monarchy, however, the liberal laws were even more liberally construed and applied, and the penal institutions scarcely knew what it was to receive a prisoner sent there by the courts for the infraction of laws framed for the protection of women, although crimes that in other countries would stir the people to the exercise of lynch rule were of almost daily occurrence.

No Attention Paid.

And even today, though vast advances have been made in the apprehending and conviction of offenders, less attention is paid offenses of this character than perhaps in any other civilized community.

"The Mormon church authorities have seized upon these weaknesses of the easy-going natives of the islands," said a Territorial official yesterday, "and I believe it is their hope to found an island Utah in the Pacific. The majority of the voters of Hawaii are full-blooded natives and half-whites, and with Brigham Young's doctrines followed by the larger number of these it would only be a question of a few years when the civil government, including everything perhaps but the higher courts—the judges of which are appointed from Washington—would be in their hands. This would but mean the hurrying of the day when a Federal commission would govern the Territory; a change from the present form that has been already much advocated because of Hawaii's prominent position."

"The commission idea of government has been strongly opposed by a majority of whites, half-whites and browns, but with Mormonism growing from day to day more strongly the people who have the best interests of the Territory at heart will be a determined unit in favor of a complete Federal control in civil as well as military affairs."

"Rampant Mormonism, with its fearful doctrine of the sanctity of plural marriages and free love, will not be tolerated by the 25,000 whites, who are determined that this country so blest above all others by nature shall not be a land where moral or industrial anarchy may grow and flourish."

POPE'S REPORT SHOWS ACTIVE YEAR IN SCHOOLS

In the annual school report of Educational Superintendent Pope which was submitted to the governor yesterday afternoon is the statement that the past year has been the most active in the history of the Territorial schools.

The report which fills sixty pages of typewritten manuscript treats fully of the finances, high schools, changes in the department, reports, libraries, and the new vocational school plan. It also contains statistics of number of teachers employed, and pupils enrolled.

There are attending schools in the Territory, 29,909 pupils of which 6157 are enrolled in the private schools.

Japanese come first with 8,368, Portuguese next with 4,214, Hawaiians third, and fifth last. There are 459 American pupils.

CANAL OPENING STIRRING COAST

Transportation People Getting Ready for Tide of Immigrants

Steamship and general transportation interests on the coast are making great preparation for the passenger and freight traffic expected in the Pacific after the opening of the Panama canal. What the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company is going to do was recently told by William H. Dimond & Co., San Francisco agents.

"The American-Hawaiian Steamship Company," they said, "while not engaged in the passenger business, its steamers being equipped for freight only, is making extensive preparations for the increased traffic which is expected on the opening of the canal."

"It has already placed orders for eight steamers of 10,300 tons capacity each, which should be completed and in commission by the time the canal is open for general business."

"These new steamers with the present fleet of eighteen steamers, all built in American shipyards and under the American flag, will give the company a capacity of one and a half to two million tons of freight per annum. When this fleet is in operation it will mean that twenty American-Hawaiian steamers a month will pass through the canal."

The eight new ships for this company will be the Pennsylvania, Panamanian, Minnetonka, Montagan, Dakotan, Ohlson, Iowan and Washingtonian. Each will be 430 feet in length over all, and of 6,700 gross, and 4,550 net, tonnage.

The first new ship is scheduled to be delivered to the company on September 1 next, and after that the ships will be delivered at about the following dates: December 2, 1912; March 3, 1913; September 5, 1913; November 6, 1913; January 7, 1914, and March 8, 1914.

VACUUM CLEANERS KILL PEST

NEWMAN, Cal., July 11.—An energetic young man who believed that vacuum carpet cleaners could be sold in the country as well as the city is responsible for the death of millions of grasshoppers in this city, and many alfalfa ranches whose pastures boast no carpets have become his patrons.

The young agent's first day in the country was "profitless," but, noticing the desperate expedients made by the farmers to rid the garden of grasshoppers, he evolved a scheme which has made his name a household word.

Modifying a vacuum cleaner on a light sled, he pushed it before him through the alfalfa. The hoppers jumped from before it as it reached them, and were drawn by the powerful suction into the machine. When the holder was full he dumped the hoppers into a box and killed them with bisulphide of carbon.

The farmers have added to the economic advantages of the system by drying the hoppers and sacking them for chicken feed.

SPORTS

FIVE YACHTS

onds; Gladys, 2 hours, 57 minutes, 33 seconds. Start at 5.

The race will start at five o'clock this afternoon from a line taken from the spar buoy to Ex-Commodore Jaeger's power launch, Kulamau III, which will be anchored one hundred yards from the buoy. All boats will cross on a beat to windward and after rounding the bell buoy come about and proceed on their course. A preparatory gun will be fired at 4:55 which will give all boats five minutes to jockey for the start.

The course will be from the starting point around the island of Oahu by way of Barber's Point and Wai'anae, finishing across a line taken from the Walkiki outermost buoy off Honolulu Harbor and within 200 yards to leeward of same.

All regulation lights and lifebuoys to be carried. No restrictions as to color of race and the same shall be turned in to the Regatta Committee after the finish of the race. All protests must be in the hands of the Regatta Committee not later than 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, July 30th.

Last year's race was won by the Gladys, and in 1910 the Kam copped the cup.

MANY OF TY COBB'S HITS ARE OF SCRATCH VARIETY

Talking about players who get lucky hits, the Browns one and all will say that Ty Cobb is the man who gets most of them. They do not want to belittle the Georgia Peach's worth, but just the same it is a fact that the truth Cobb gets many hits that are very lucky.

In many instances he bunts the ball and just as the fielder is about to make the pickup the ball bounds over his noddle. Luck is with the demon Detroit in such instances; otherwise he would have been an easy victim. Then he gets many when fielders take it easy thinking they have lots of time to get their men. It may be all right to take chances with some players, but not with Cobb. If you wait a fraction of a second it means a total loss when you throw to catch him.

But, when it comes to getting lucky hits, Ty Cobb has it on all of them, no matter who he is.

of Bishop Hereford, but turnish generally believe it is the same crowd of politicians that engineered the insurance act and other unpopular measures. At the bottom of this serious attack on the British turf are the same two undesirable adjuncts of modern horse-racing that accomplished the downfall of the sport at the principal racing centers of the United States, notably robbery and crookedness on the turf and handhooking off it.

Instead of handhooking it is called "starting price betting" in the British Isles, but the methods of trimming the public are just the same. Bishop Hereford named his measure the "gambling advertisements bill," and his principal argument is that its object is to stop hordes of handhook men from preying upon workmen and women. This argument won the bill such unexpected support on its second reading in the House of Lords that the turfmen are alarmed for fear of further attacks.

PETITION FOR NO FIGHTS SIGNED BY 2600 PERSONS

LOS ANGELES.—An anti-prize fight petition bearing 2,600 signatures, and asking for amendments to the State law which, in effect, would make all kinds of boxing matches or sparring exhibitions unlawful, has been presented to County Clerk Harry LeLande. The petition was rejected by the clerk because it did not conform to all of the requirements of the law in that it did not carry the voting precinct of many of the signers. The petition will be corrected, it was said, and presented again within two or three days.

HAWAII PHYSICIAN WINS DISTINCTION IN MEDICINE

Dr. E. S. Goodhue of Honolulu, Hawaii, has won distinction in the medical world with an article appearing in the Medical Record of June 8, entitled "The Thermo-Hydrophatic Treatment of Fever and Other Inflammatory Conditions." The article has been reprinted by William Wood & Company of New York and is being generally circulated among members of the medical fraternity.

HONOLULU CORRESPONDENT SEES MENACE IN MORMONISM

New York Paper Prints Story Purporting to Show Conditions in Hawaii

"Mormon Blight Menaces Hawaii," declare headlines in the New York Times of Sunday, August 14, and under the "social correspondence" line the paper publishes the following:

HONOLULU, June 26.—While the growth of the Mormon Church in this territory has been noted with more or less misgiving by other churches, only recently have the facts of the strength of the Latter-Day Saints in these islands become publicly known.

Now the evangelical organizations and the Roman Catholics are determined to make common war on the followers of Brigham Young. With this end in view, the Protestant churches have formed a federation, and, though there are many brilliant pastors among them, they purpose to import eloquent pulpits from the mainland, as well as singers of wide reputation, to assist in a house-to-house campaign among the native islanders.

Spreading Fast.

The propaganda of these Church of Latter-Day Saints is the news among the people of Hawaii, but in an incredibly short time its doctrines and many of its practices have gained great headway among the native Hawaiians and the Orientals, two classes which constitute more than four-fifths of the population. Leading Protestant and Catholic divines are alarmed at the inroads made, among the natives especially, and strong efforts will be made to stem the tide of Mormonism.

If high dignitaries can be taken as authority, the churches will not be alone on their war on the Latter Day Saints. It is asserted that the Federal Government has promised its influence and power toward the curtailing of the Mormon propaganda. And it is known that not only have the Territorial officials been asked to make report upon the situation, but that at least seven officers of the Secret Service, ostensibly here to look into Japanese immigration and customs infringement matters, are to make report on the doings of the Latter Day Saints and learn to what extent polygamy is practiced.

The U. S. Dist. Attorney.

That hundreds of plural marriages have been performed or sanctioned by the elders no one conversant with the subject disputes, but to obtain dates and facts in specific cases for the purpose of prosecution is difficult, so devoted are the followers of the new church. But the Federal District Attorney is known as a tenacious official.

Bishop Illis of the Episcopal Church said yesterday to The Times correspondent:

"Hawaii is credited with many menaces, industrial and martial, all the way from strikes among plantation laborers to war with Japan; but there has not occurred in the history of the island a more terrible menace than this Mormon scourge, which not only threatens but is actually festering in the moral and political body of the Territory. The cancer had its beginning a long time ago with the distribution of Mormon literature, but only within a few years have there been zealous elders among the people, sent here by the Mother Church in Utah. At first they worked secretly and did not call themselves Mormons; but within two or three years they have become so strong in those remote regions where the white man is in a very small minority that they have come out not only openly, but aggressively for Mormonism and polygamy."

"From the natives it has spread to the Chinese, Japanese, and even to some extent among the Russian and Portuguese plantation laborers, so that today it is a positive disease, eating into the vitals of the non-white races."

"I feel that all militant Christianity, and in particular, the churches of the United States, should take up this great matter without delay and bring to the attention of the National authorities by letter, through the press, and by personal work on the part of members of Congress this iniquitous state of affairs."

"A hundred years ago New England sent her first missionaries to these islands, and the good accomplished by them and the noble men and women that followed from that time up to the present, has been incalculable. The natives were lifted from a state of the lowest morality to a comparatively high plane. Churches and schools were established; marriage was taught to be a sacred institution, and that lax morals were contrary to the health of body as well as soul. And now all this splendid work is to be overturned and destroyed by these much-wielded elders from Utah!"

Prosecution Urged.

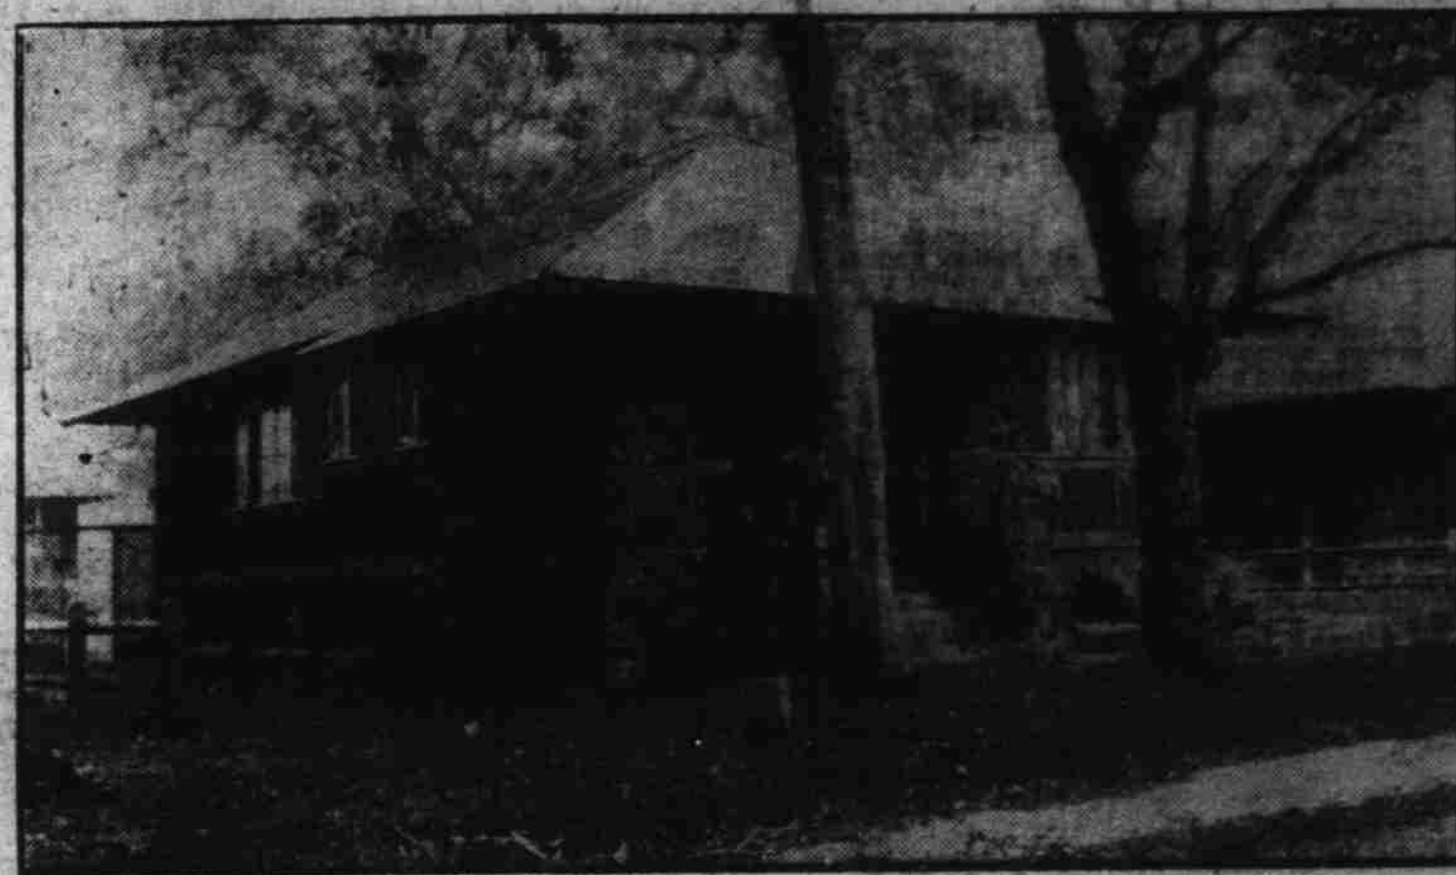

"Some of them, as I have positive proof, with wives in Utah, have married one or more native women here. Will they be prosecuted in the courts? You may rest assured they will be. There will be many brought into the courts at the same time and properly dealt with. On this score I am fully convinced."

Bishop Libert of the Roman Catholic church said that if Mormonism was allowed to spread unhampered, it
